

High level alarm w. telemetry (GSM, Mini)

Our telemetric systems are suitable for the possibility of pump failure through either a pump fault or loss of mains power would be catastrophic.

It is designed to alert the end user via GSM should a high level condition or loss of power occur. It notifies up to three keyholders by sending an SMS message alerting them of the system fault.

The system is available with most products.

The system activates via a mini float switch (sump float version available), which is located inside the chamber/sump. It is set to activate higher than the activation point of the primary pump.
