

AutoFlush90VOX

The AutoFlush90VOX is a fully automatic pumping station suitable for pumping grey water containing solids of up to 36mm to a higher level when gravity drainage is not possible and/or economical to install.

The compact tank is ideal for accepting waste from utility sinks, wash basins, tea points or similar. Edincare's 'OpenFlow' impellor technology enables discharge through small bore pipe work for installation through busy service voids and roof spaces.

The system consists of a sealed polyethylene chamber, internal pipe work and fittings, automatic 'OpenFlow' submersible pump and solvent weld outlet connection.

The AutoFlush90VOX is easy to install as inlets can be drilled to suit site requirements (inlet information to be supplied at time of order).

KEY FEATURES

- Edincare 'OpenFlow' technology enables pumping of waste water through small bore pipes
- Reliable automatic pump suitable for soft solids up to 36mm in diameter
- Variable inlet positions offer high versatility on site (inlet information to be supplied at time of order)
- A range of alarms and remote alerts are available offering peace of mind to the end user
